ABOUT AAPAM
The African Association for Public Administration and Management (AAPAM) is an international professional organization that promotes best practice, excellence and professionalism in public administration and management in Africa through research, publications, training, seminars, consultancy, conferences and awards. AAPAM membership includes governments, private sector, civil society and international organizations. AAPAM operates mainly but not exclusively in Africa.

What is Public Administration?
According to UNDP, public administration has two closely related meanings:
(a) The management and implementation of the whole set of government activities dealing with the implementation of laws, regulations and decisions of the Government and the management related to the provision of public services.
(b) The aggregate machinery (policies, rules, procedures, systems, organizational structures, personnel and so forth) funded by the State budget and in charge of the management and direction of the affairs of the executive government, and its interaction with other stakeholders in the State, society and external environment;
(United Nations Development Programme, Democratic Governance Group, Public administration practice note, Bureau for Development Policy, 2003)

AAPAM Historical Background
Founded over forty years ago, AAPAM has led efforts to strengthen the administrative and management capacities of African public administration systems. These efforts date back to 1962, when a group of Permanent Secretaries in charge of Public Services from several African countries, met to discuss two main problems, among others, facing the African Public Services then.

Similar meetings came to be held every year in rotation in various capitals of independent Africa, and by 1965 every Head of Civil Service looked forward to attending the Inter-African Public Administration Seminar as the meetings came to be known.

In 1971, this network of Heads of Civil Service decided to formalize their assembly giving birth to African Association for Public Administration and Management (AAPAM). The Association was inaugurated by the President of Sierra Leone, the late Dr. Siaka Stevens and had, as its first President, Kenya Cabinet Minister the late Dr. Robert Ouko.
Other Presidents of AAPAM include Mr. William Wamalwa (Kenya), Dr. Robert Dodoo (Ghana), Dr. Jonathan Chileshe (Zambia), Mr. John Mitala (Uganda), Mr. Tlohang Sekhamane (Lesotho), Mr. Abdon Agaw Jok Nhial (South Sudan) and currently, Dr. Roland Msiska, (Zambia).

Our Mandate
AAPAM derives its mandate from the Constitution and Rules as approved by the General Assembly in Livingstone, Zambia, 7th December 2005

Our Vision
To be the leading professional association for African public service practitioners and managers.

Our Mission
To promote and spearhead Best Practice, Excellence and Professionalism in Public Administration and Management in Africa.

Objectives
AAPAM aims to:

• Provide a forum for exchanging ideas and experiences between Public Administrators, Managers, Scholars and Teachers of Public Administration and Management in Africa.
• Bring together top African Administrators and Managers to discuss topical managerial problems with a view to sharing experiences and trying to find solutions to Africa’s development problems.
• Foster professionalization of Public Administration and Management in Africa.
• Assist, encourage and contribute to the study of the problems and techniques of Public Administration and management in the African continent.
• Promote research in Public Administration and Management on the African continent.
• Foster affiliation and maintain liaison with other international bodies and organizations interested in public administration and management.

Core Values
AAPAM core values are:

• Commitment to enhance delivery of quality public service in Africa.
• Commitment to research and development to improve the quality of public services in Africa.
Mostly consist of senior level public sector managers, top administrators in the public services, management consultants and academics in institutions of higher learning in Africa, young professionals and students.

AAPAM MEMBERSHIP

AAPAM is an Association whose membership is based on three categories.

1. African Governments

They provide AAPAM with annual subventions, offer hosting facilities for its seminars and conferences. The Government of Kenya in addition, hosts the AAPAM Secretariat in Nairobi and provides the Secretariat infrastructural support, logistics and diplomatic goodwill.

2. Corporate Members

This category of membership consists of;
- Management Development Institutes (MDI’s)
- Universities and Training Institutions
- Government parastatals
- Other International institutions and Corporate bodies

3. Individual members

Mostly consist of senior level public sector managers, top administrators in the public services, management consultants and academics in institutions of higher learning in Africa, young professionals and students.

Membership Benefits

AAPAM Members enjoy the following general benefits among others:
- Receive free copies of our publications i.e. Journal, Newsletter and Conference Report;
- Are among the first to learn about cutting edge public administration theory and practice and continue to have access to research and our outstanding publications;
- Enjoy exchange programmes which will enable them to visit other countries in Africa and beyond and share learning experiences;
- Get Involved, in accordance with required expertise in the Association’s consultancy activities, conferences and workshops;
- Enjoy networking opportunities with their peers and leaders in the public service;
- Enhance their skills through regional and national events among others.
The General Assembly - which is composed of all AAPAM Members drawn from Africa meets once in three years.

The Council - which is composed of the national chapter chairpersons, Management Development Institutes, the Executive Committee and corporate and individual members' representatives. The Council meets once a year.

The Executive Committee - this is the main governing organ of the Association. It is mainly composed of but not limited to Heads/Secretaries of/to the Public/Civil service in Africa. This committee is comprised of an elected President, an elected Deputy President, AAPAM’s Secretary General and five elected Vice-Presidents representing the five regions (North, East, West, South and Central) of Africa and an Ex-officio member. The committee meets at least twice a year.

Secretariat - this is the technical and administrative organ of the Association responsible for the day to day running of the association’s programmes and activities. It is headed by an appointed Secretary General supported by AAPAM staff. The Secretariat has its headquarters in Nairobi, Kenya.
National chapters - much of the work of the Association is run under the aegis of national chapters which have their own constitutions (in consonance with the AAPAM constitution and Rules) and executive officers.

AAPAM PROGRAMMES

AAPAM's programmes include the following:

1. TRAINING

The Association conducts wide spectrum training for senior and middle level practitioners and young professionals in the private and public sector through Seminars, Workshops and short courses. The training’s are in the field of leadership, governance, management, administration, human resource and other related spheres. The training’s are aimed at building capacity in the public sector.

The National chapters equally organize seminars and workshops for public servants, university and college students, professionals, business people and local communities. They also hold day seminars, and observe the Africa Public Service Day every 23rd of June.

2. APPLIED RESEARCH

The association endeavours to foster the discovery of new and innovative knowledge and skills through research in the field of public administration and management. AAPAM brings together several practitioners and academics who conduct research on selected issues. The output benefits from both a comparative approach and input that is rich in theory and practice.

3. CONSULTANCY

Over the years, AAPAM has accumulated a wealth of experience in administration and management in addition to various programmes undertaken by the Association. To this end, it offers consultancy services to Governments, Corporate Bodies, Regional and International Organization through its vast network of experts.

4. INTER-COUNTRY VISITS

These are organized at the request of interested parties.

5. CONFERENCES

AAPAM organizes an Annual Roundtable Conference and periodically, other conferences focused on current critical issues in African public administration and management in order to increase the knowledge and skills of senior level policy-makers across the continent. The conferences are aimed at sharing knowledge, networking and championing a common agenda towards development in Africa. The themes of the conferences are identified based on prevailing challenges affecting public administration and management in Africa.

The Roundtable conference brings together senior African government officials to: enhance their knowledge of international best practices and awareness of global socio-economic successes, challenges and lessons learned; find common solutions to public sector problems; enhance the profile of the public service within governments and the public; and develop public sector networks and public service delivery.

The AAPAM Roundtable has been held every year since 1978 in different locations. The conferences enlist the participation of delegates from various countries across Africa, including: Ministers; High-level public functionaries drawn from Executive, Legislative and Judicial Arms of Government; Heads of national planning ministries/agencies/offices/commissions; Renowned academics and researchers; Civic leaders (from NGOs and Civil Society organisations); Representatives from banks and financial institutions, industry, donor agencies, United Nations, the African Union, and other regional groupings.

6. AAPAM PUBLICATIONS

AAPAM produces a wide range of publications to circulate best practices and lessons learned in public administration and management amongst students, teachers, researchers and practitioners across the African continent. Through its publications including books, journals, newsletters and conference reports, AAPAM enhances the knowledge and skills of senior level policy-makers - aimed at strengthening the administrative and management capacities of the African public services.

a) African Journal of Public Administration and Management (AJPAM)

The AJPAM is a bi-annual publication focusing on various aspects of public and development administration and management in Africa are invited from all parts of the world. AJPAM's gives preference to original works that are empirically based and/or suggest new insights and innovative ideas in African administration and management. AJPAM Journal is widely recognized as an authoritative tool for the teaching and practice of Public Administration in Africa.

b) AAPAM Newsletters

The AAPAM Newsletter is published bi-annually in English. It enables AAPAM keep members informed about the activities of the Association. It also deals with topical issues on public administration and management in Africa.
c) AAPAM Conference Reports
AAPAM publishes a formal report of its conferences in a hard copy format. These reports contain a play by play narrative of the conference proceedings.

d) AAPAM Case Studies
AAPAM is seeking to develop a case study collection focused on various topics of interest in African public administration and management. This collection would offer practitioners, students, and academics of public administration practical examples of public administration as it is lived in the African contexts.

e) Monographs and Books
One of the major objectives of AAPAM is to promote research in African administrative and management problems aimed at finding a solution to Africa’s multiple crises. Conferences and research projects carried out through the Association’s initiative have resulted in the publication of books used as basic texts for teaching in Institutes and Schools of Public Administration and Management, as well as serving as reference materials for practicing managers and administrators. A list of these books can be found in the Book Corner pages in the AAPM

7. AAPAM SPECIAL EVENTS

AAPAM Awards
AAPAM’s Awards program was launched in 2005 and consists of five categories of awards:
1. AAPAM Gold Medal,
2. AAPAM Award for Innovative Management,
3. AAPAM Award for Outstanding Contribution to Knowledge in Public Administration and Management,
4. AAPAM Award for Excellence in the Teaching of Public Administration in Africa and
5. AAPAM Award for Best Student Essay.

The awards recognize persons and institutions in the public service that have made outstanding contributions in the field of public administration and management in Africa. They also aim to set standards of excellence for others to aspire and enhance the image of public sector as a worthy domain for career pursuits.

The awards are usually supported by individuals and organizations who undertake to promote innovation in the continent

a. AAPAM Gold Medal
The Gold Medal Award marks the exceptional achievement of an individual who has shown distinctive leadership or has made a significant contribution to the advancement of excellence in public administration and management in Africa. Awarded biennially, the AAPAM Gold Medal is the highest honour accorded by AAPAM to outstanding public service.

With previous support from CIDA through IPAC programming, three gold medals were developed by the Canadian Mint (a 14-carat minted Gold Medal).

AAPAM appreciates the many facets of the Public Service and has thus established various networks, in order to effectively reach these facets. These networks include;

1. AAPAM YOUNG PROFESSIONALS NETWORK

In the implementation of any country's development programme, the Civil Service relies on the critical link constituted by the middle level public servants - consisting of the young civil servants and those progressing towards the top of the civil service hierarchy.

As a result, AAPAM constituted the Young Professionals Network whose membership includes young public/civil service professionals (who have entered the public/civil service in the last five years and who are 35 years or less).

- The Programme sponsors Young Professionals in the public service to participate in high level public sector conferences - where they lobby for issues concerning young/new public sector professionals.
- Aims to forge a link between the older more experienced public sector managers and build capacity among the younger generations of public servants.
- The Network aims to address the unique challenges faced by young professionals entering the civil service - give them the necessary skills, ethics, values and techniques to mould them into respected professionals and upcoming leaders.

2. Africa Public Sector Human Resource Managers' Network (APS-HRMnet)

APS-HRMnet was established as a recognition to the need for the development of competent and professional human resource managers in Africa's public sector.

The overall objective of the APS-HRMnet is to provide human resource managers in the public sector in Africa with a networking platform for advocacy, human resources management professional development, information and knowledge sharing to enhance organizational and individual capacity for effective performance in the public sector.

The Network is sponsored by the United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs (UNDESA), the Commonwealth Secretariat, the United Nations Development Program and the APS-HRMnet Activities

- Organization for certification of human resource managers in the public sector.
- Networking nationally, regionally and internationally.
- Providing advisory services to governments and undertaking advocacy activities in various aspects of human resource management.

3. Network for Academia and Researchers

This network aims at creating a platform for championing the needs and capacity development of the academia and researchers' fraternity. It also focuses on enhancing their interaction through a common networking platform.

4. Women in African Public Service Network (WAPAN)

The vision of WAPAN is to promote diversity and gender approach in the African public administration and management.

The network aims at:
- Supporting, promoting mutual value for women in the public service.
- Giving women and women leaders the opportunity to develop their own resources and their potential.
- Creating platforms for women to network, exchange and share experiences and ideas.
- Fostering women empowerment through capacity development.
- Utilizing available platforms like digital transformation to foster gender equity.
- Mentorship of young women into leadership positions.

AAPAM ACHIEVEMENTS

AAPAM has made tremendous strides towards attaining its stated goals and objective; key areas of achievement include:

1. Publications and literature on public administration and management
2. Providing a knowledge hub in Africa
3. Promotion of recognition of innovation in Africa’s public sector.
4. Encouraging cross-generational transfer of knowledge and skills in Africa public sector.
5. Facilitating formation of international and continental networks and Associations.
7. Advancing gender mainstreaming policies.
